Promote Alaska Digital Citizenship Week on Social Media

Be Social during the Alaska Digital Citizenship Week, September 25-29, 2017! You are encouraged to include the hashtag #AKDigitalCitizenshp and #akleans in all your Tweets and Instagram posts so that other educators across Alaska will see what's happening during our statewide celebration! Need inspiration? We have pulled together some model posts for various social media platforms that you can use. Note: Please ensure appropriate photo permissions for any student photos posted.

Monday

Facebook:	Share "18 Questions to Ask on Back to School Night: Get the answers you need about how media and technology will be used in your kids' education." Or make a plan to start answering these questions in advance of Back to School Night. Here's the post: https://www.commonsensemedia.org/blog/18-questions-to-ask-on-back-to-school-night (link is external)
Twitter:	Dedicated to helping kids thrive in a world of media & technology, @CommonSenseEd offers a blog for parents https://www.commonsensemedia.org/blog (link is external) #AKDigitalCitizenship #aklearns
Instagram:	Post an image with your vision of digital citizenship. You can create an image using http://quozio.com/ (link is external) or https://www.canva.com/ (link is external)
Bonus Tweet:	Encourage your faculty to complete their Common Sense Curriculum Training and send out this Tweet: I just completed @CommonSenseEdu K12 Online Curriculum Training! Are you ready to teach #digcit? Learn how: http://ow.ly/gKrAe (link is external) #AKDigitalCitizenship #aklearns

Tuesday

Facebook:	Today there's no shortage of apps, websites and games that claim to be educational. Whether it's improving vocabulary or teaching critical thinking skills, there are lots of fun digital activities for kids. Find out what's really best for learning. https://www.commonsensemedia.org/videos/learning-with-technology (link is external)
Twitter	3 Ways to Maximize Kids' Learning with Technology #AKDigitalCitizenship https://www.commonsensemedia.org/blog/3-ways-to-maximize-kids-learning-with-technology (link is external)
Instagram:	Today's theme is Self-Image and Identity. Create a collage of expressive faces. Post with the caption: Which me should I be? Digital citizens know this is a decision we make every time we post online!

Wednesday

Facebook:	Does it ever feel like you need a dictionary to keep up with the digital slang? Common Sense Media's Graphite blog offers A Digital Glossary (link is external).
Twitter:	What kind of digital footprint do you want your child to leave? #AKDigitalCitizenship https://www.commonsensemedia.org/videos/abbass-story-pride-in-your-digital-footprint (link is external)
Instagram:	Today's theme is Privacy and Internet Safety. Snap and share a picture that shows what your students took away from today's lesson.

Thursday

Facebook:	Today we talked about cyberbullying and digital drama at school. Check out the Common Sense reviews on media dealing with being an upstander. You can even filter the results by Entertainment Type. https://www.commonsensemedia.org/search/upstander (link is external)
Twitter:	Surprise! The same digital tools that kids can use for cyberbullying can also be instruments for good. #AKDigitalCitizenship https://www.commonsensemedia.org/blog/apps-and-games-to-spark-kindness-and-compassion (link is external)
Instagram:	Today's theme is Cyberbullying and Digital Drama. Share photos of your students or staff with students supporting each other with a message related to being an Upstander. You might simply encourage parents to ask their child what an upstander is. Encourage dialogue such as, "When might someone need an upstander?" or "Have you ever been an upstander for someone or has someone acted as an upstander for you?"

Friday

Facebook:	The Internet allows us to download, share, and re-use copyrighted material in many ways. But kids don't always follow the rules. Find out how to educate your kids about both the legal and ethical reasons for respecting other people's creative work in this Common Sense Media video for families: https://www.commonsensemedia.org/videos/teaching-kids-about-copyright-piracy (link is external)
Twitter:	Teens and Tech: The New Landscape #AKDigitalCitizenship #aklearns https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PRUp-45OLN8 (link is external)
Instagram:	Today's theme is Creative Credit and Copyright. Print out a CC logo https://creativecommons.org/about/downloads/ (link is external) and capture student's original work with the CC logo displayed. Post with the caption: One of the best ways for students to learn about Creative Commons licenses is to license their own work before they share on the Internet.
